01 Executive Summary

Thank you for the brief. You asked us to strengthen Gladwyn's professional presence on LinkedIn, position him as a thought leader in the investment and entrepreneurship ecosystem, and keep his content aligned with his role as CEO and E Squared's broader positioning. You also asked for options depending on how much engagement management is included.

Our answer is a three-level service built around the same foundation: two posts a month in Gladwyn's own voice, designed and published, a profile audit and optimisation at the start, and a monthly report. The levels differ in how much active engagement they include, from a weekly review with draft replies (Option 1), through daily monitoring, proactive comments and stakeholder outreach (Option 2), to a fuller programme with more content, long-form pieces and fresh imagery (Option 3).

We recommend Option 2. A CEO's LinkedIn presence is built as much in other people's comments and conversations as in his own posts, and Option 2 is the level at which that engagement is managed properly while the monthly publishing stays at the two posts you asked for.

	Option 1 Publish & Report	Option 2 Publish & Engage	Option 3 Publish, Engage & Amplify
Monthly fee (excl. VAT)	R 9,500	R 19,400	R 36,800
Posts a month	2	2	4
Engagement management	Weekly review, draft replies	Daily review, replies within one business day	Daily review, same-day replies, message triage
Proactive comments a month	None	12	25
Outreach drafts a month	None	Up to 10	Up to 20
Long-form article or newsletter	No	No	Quarterly
Content session (photo and video)	No	No	Quarterly
Monthly report	Standard	With insights	With insights and peer benchmarking

02 Understanding Gladwyn and E Squared

The points below come from public reporting and E Squared's own communications, and we would confirm them with your team before using them in any content. We have not yet seen Gladwyn's current LinkedIn profile or analytics, so the audit in the first weeks will establish the starting point.

The firm	E Squared Investments is an impact investment fund that backs responsible entrepreneurs across the journey: pre-seed programmes, early-stage investment, co-investment, fund partnerships, social entrepreneurship and venture philanthropy. It backs ventures founded by Allan Gray Fellows and is a strategic partner to Allan & Gill Gray Philanthropies.
The 2025 Impact Report	R316m invested in 2025 and R1.34bn across 227 businesses since inception; 37,756 jobs created, supported and beneficiated; 92% of 2025 investment value directed to Black beneficiaries and 62% to Black women-owned businesses; 16% fair market value growth in the venture portfolio and R31m realised from partial exits in 2025.
Gladwyn Leeuw	CEO since September 2023. Previously a General Partner at Kingson Capital, where he led post-investment management; earlier roles at Anglo American's Zimele enterprise and supplier development arm and on the senior executive team at CCI South Africa; founder of a peer-to-peer lending fintech platform; degrees from Wits and Wits Business School.
His public themes	Scaling with purpose; responsible entrepreneurship, meaning running a successful business while having a positive impact on society; patient, long-term capital; and the view that financial performance and social impact are mutually reinforcing.
The opportunity	Gladwyn has a credible, distinctive story and real numbers behind it. LinkedIn is where founders, co-investors, fund managers, corporates and policymakers in his ecosystem form impressions, and a consistent, personal voice there strengthens trust in E Squared.

03 Positioning & Content Strategy

The aim is a presence that reads as Gladwyn's own: a thoughtful investor and former operator who speaks plainly about capital, founders and responsible growth. We propose five content pillars.

Pillar	What it covers	Example direction (illustrative, for approval)
Responsible entrepreneurship	What it means to build a business that also serves society	Why "scaling with purpose" is a business discipline, not a slogan
Capital and access	The state of funding for South African and African founders	What patient capital means when capital is scarce and the margin for error is limited
Lessons from the portfolio	What E Squared learns from backing 227 businesses, shared with founder consent	Three things that separate founders who last
Ecosystem and inclusion	Transformation, women-owned businesses and the wider investment landscape	What it takes to direct capital towards Black women-owned businesses and see them thrive
Leadership and lessons	Gladwyn's own journey from enterprise development to venture capital to CEO	What running post-investment support taught me about founders

How We Keep the Voice His Own

03 Positioning & Content Strategy

- Every post is drafted from his own ideas, interviews and published words, and approved by him before it is published.
- A first-person voice, plain language and a clear point of view, avoiding corporate boilerplate.
- Coordination with E Squared's company page so that his posts complement the organisation's content rather than repeat it.

07 Workflow, Approvals & Account Access

Step	How it works
Monthly calendar	We send a proposed calendar of topics and post ideas by the 20th of each month for the following month, for Gladwyn's input and approval
Drafting	Each post is drafted and designed at least five working days before it is due
Approval	Gladwyn approves, edits or rejects each post, ideally within 48 hours. Nothing is published without his approval
Engagement	Replies follow written guidelines agreed in onboarding. Anything about investments, valuations, personnel, politics, legal matters or a complaint is escalated to Gladwyn or the right E Squared contact before a reply
Investor and founder messages	Pitches and funding requests are acknowledged politely and directed to E Squared's official channels. We never promise funding, a meeting or a response time on his behalf
Reporting	A monthly report within the first week of the following month, and a quarterly strategy review in Options 2 and 3

Account Access and Security

Publishing and engagement both need some form of access to Gladwyn's account. LinkedIn's terms generally expect individuals to keep their own login details private, so we recommend an arrangement that does not involve sharing his password, for example posting and replying from our approved drafts through his office, or another method that E Squared's IT and compliance team approves. We will agree the method in onboarding. If direct access is not possible, we supply ready-to-post packs and draft replies, and the fees stay the same.

08 Reporting & KPIs

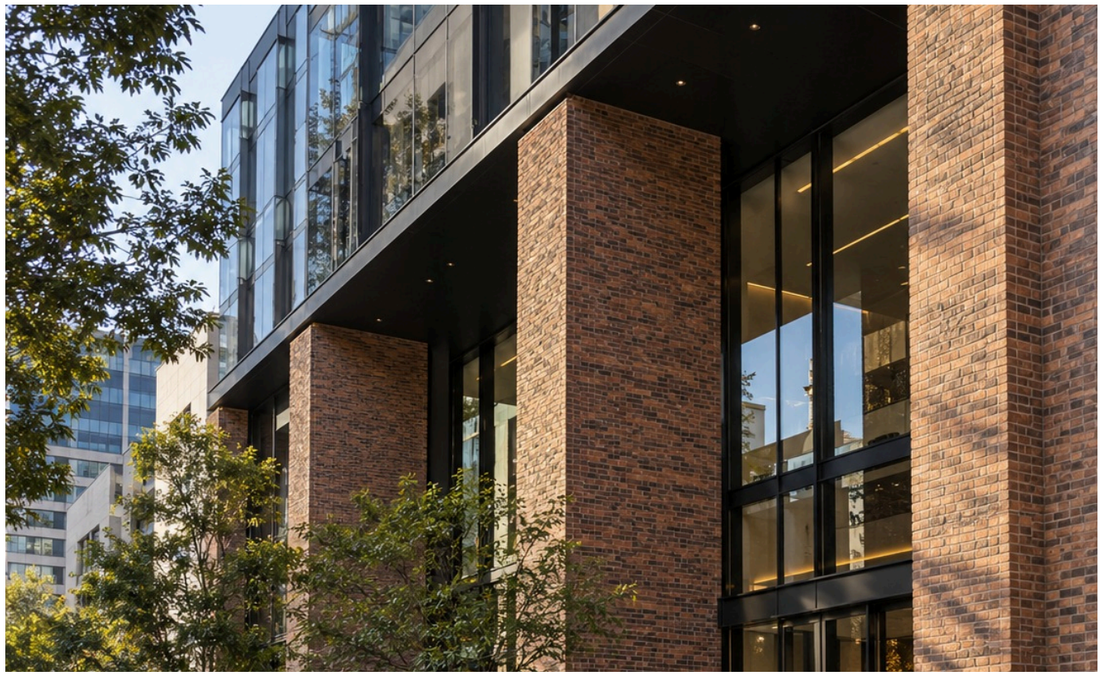

We set the baseline in the first month and agree targets once we know where the profile stands. We do not promise a number of followers or views, because LinkedIn's reach depends on many factors and on Gladwyn's own participation.

Measure	What we report
Publishing	Posts published against the agreed calendar, with approval turnaround
Content performance	Impressions, engagement rate, comments, shares and the best and weakest posts, with lessons
Audience growth	Follower and connection growth, and the share of new connections in the target stakeholder groups
Engagement activity (Options 2 and 3)	Comments made, replies sent and response times, outreach sent and accepted, and conversations started
Profile visibility	Profile views and search appearances
Quality of the network	Movement in connections among investors, founders, fund managers, corporates and policymakers
Recommendations	What to do more of, what to stop and next month's focus

09 Compliance, Reputation & Ethics

Area	How we handle it
Investment communications	Content does not give investment advice or make claims about returns that E Squared has not published or approved. Figures come from the published Impact Report and are cited correctly and dated.
Portfolio and founder content	Portfolio companies and founders are named only with their written consent, and we do not disclose confidential deal information or pipeline.
Allan Gray and other partners	References to Allan Gray, Allan & Gill Gray Philanthropies and other partners are factual, approved by E Squared and do not imply endorsement.
Forward-looking statements	Statements about plans or targets are approved by Gladwyn and E Squared, and phrased carefully.
Authenticity	Content is written in his voice from his ideas and approved by him. We do not use fake accounts, purchased connections, engagement pods or automation that breaches LinkedIn's rules.
Sensitive topics	Transformation, race, gender and politics are discussed with care and with E Squared's approval, in line with the firm's published positions.
Data and privacy	Personal information about people he engages with is handled in line with POPIA and is not shared or sold.
Reputation and conflicts	We monitor for negative or sensitive comments and escalate promptly, and we disclose other clients that could create a conflict.
